

REHES News 2/2023

1. REHES Network News

➤ 5th REHES conference in Lucerne from Nov. 2-3 2023

The Lucerne University of Applied Sciences and Arts organizes the fifth REHES conference. It will take place on 2 and 3 Nov. 2023 in the premises of the Business School, which are in the immediate vicinity of Lucerne's main railway station. For more information, please see the website. You can submit your contributions until June 12th.

➤ From the Network Coordinators

Christian Wassmer will present the REHES network at the 4th hofo-Conference 2023 "Transition and Transformation in Higher Education" in Vienna in early July. In return, a delegation from hofo will come to the REHES V Conference in Lucerne in November.

➤ REHES Working Paper Series

The Call for Publications for the REHES Working Paper Series is published (<https://lnkd.in/e7HViq8U>). We look forward to receiving your contributions. You can find all the information incl. the author's notes on the REHES website (<https://lnkd.in/ePuRbjAJ>). Please feel free to forward the call to other colleagues who may be interested.

2. People, Publications and Projects

Marco Cavallaro (USI) has been elected as a member of the Swiss Young Academy, which brings together young researchers to work on projects at the interface between science, society and politics.

3. Conferences and Calls

➤ 2023 SFDN Conference "Going further together": 24th of November at Universität Bern.

The Swiss Faculty Development Network is happy to share with you some more details about the conference happening at the end of the year. It is inspired by the proverb "If you want to go fast, go alone. If you want to go far, go together."

The overarching theme of this conference is to explore the potential and the value of the full range of professional partnerships that occur in higher education. This could be between educational developers and faculty, between faculty and policy makers and of course between students and any of the above.

For more information and registration, you can visit the website. We look forward to seeing you!

➤ STS-CH 2023 conference at University of Basel

The next conference of the Swiss Association for the Study of Science, Technology and Society (STS-CH) on the following topic “Science, Expertise and other Modes of Knowledge: Trends, Patterns, and Prospects” will take place from August 31st - September 1st at University of Basel: <https://sts-ch.org/sts-ch-2023/>.

The topic is broad and contributions from higher education research and the REHES network are very welcome.

➤ Swiss Year of Scientometrics (SYoS)

The ETH Library has launched the “Swiss Year of Scientometrics” (SYoS), a project funded by swissuniversities. As part of SYoS, the ETH Library will be organising four lectures that will be held in June 2023, October 2023, February 2024 and April 2024. Each lecture will be accompanied by a workshop as well as blog posts. The main goal of the project is to initiate a discourse about the responsible and appropriate use of scientometrics in Switzerland. For more information, see <https://yearofscientometrics.ethz.ch/promoting-the-responsible-use-of-scientometrics-in-switzerland/>.

➤ SSRE Conference

The 2023 annual conference of the Swiss Society for Research in Education (SSRE) and the Swiss Society for Teacher Education (SGL) will take place from 28 to 30 June 2023 at the Zurich University of Teacher Education. The conference is dedicated to the topic «Times of transition? Education between persistence and change».

➤ Other Higher Education Research Conferences 2023

Annual conference of the Gesellschaft für Hochschulforschung (GfHf), 11-13 Sept. 2023 in Osnabrück

CHER 2023 conference, 30 Aug - 1 Sept 2023 at Vienna University of Economics and Business.

Next newsletter

The REHES newsletter is published three times a year. The next newsletter will be published in autumn 2023.

Newsletter editors: David Johann, Carole Probst, Franziska Zellweger